

Terms of use

1. Common

The zooplankton information system (hereinafter "the service") is a service maintained by the Finnish Environment Institute (SYKE). By using the Service, you agree to be bound by these Terms of Use. The Terms of Use are defined below. In addition, a separate written agreement signed by the parties to the agreement applies to the organization of the user who acquires the rights to the system.

2. Changing the Terms of Use

SYKE has the right to unilaterally change these terms of use without the user's consent by updating the new terms of use for the service. The changes may limit or extend the above license or terminate the license. Changes to the terms of use will take effect as soon as they are posted on the Service. Use of the service after a change in the terms of use constitutes acceptance of the change. SYKE also has the right to restrict the use of the entire website without prior notice and without liability.

3. Responsibility for the accuracy of the information

SYKE does not guarantee the accuracy of the information contained in the service. However, SYKE strives to provide error-free information in the system without interruption.

The user always uses the service and the information contained in it at his own risk, and under no circumstances is SYKE liable for any damage resulting from the use of the service. Accordingly, SYKE shall not be liable for any direct or indirect damages arising out of, but not limited to, errors, omissions, use of the service or any material contained therein, third party claims, downtime, alteration of the content of the Material or termination of the Service, or the service does not work or is not suitable for a particular purpose. Although efforts are made to correct inaccurate information contained in the service, no one is obligated to correct it, and there is no guarantee that the information contained in the service will be correct or suitable for any purpose.

The service may contain links to third party websites. The user of the service must understand that SYKE is in no way responsible for the security of the linked websites or for the accuracy or reliability of the information on the websites. Using the link will take the service user out of the service. The user of the service visits and uses the information on third party websites at his own risk.

The information contained in the service is stored in Finland, whose constitution guarantees everyone freedom of speech. SYKE is not responsible for violations if the service is used in the territory of another state and the information found on the service violates the laws of that state.

4. Intellectual Property Rights

The material in the service is provided to users free of charge. The trademarks and photographs contained in the service are the property of their respective owners. The user of the service may not use the above-mentioned content other than in connection with the use of the service.

Any other use of the material contained in the service is permitted under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License. The licensed material may be used freely in any way provided that the source of the material is indicated: Zooplankton Information System / Source: SYKE, ELY Centers

5. Applicable law

The provisions of Finnish law primarily apply to these terms of use. The terms of use do not limit the rights under Finnish mandatory legislation. If SYKE and the service user cannot reach an amicable settlement in a possible dispute, the Helsinki District Court will be the primary court for resolving the dispute.
